

Premium Gins & Mixers

What is Gin?

Gin is a neutral spirit flavoured by juniper and other botanicals.

The base spirit has traditionally been made from grain. However, the gin revolution has brought many other base spirits to the gin world, including; potatoes, apples and grapes.

To make gin you first have to make vodka, this is the reason that many gin producers have a vodka brand to sit alongside their gin. Flavour is then added to the neutral spirit either by compounding or by redistilling.

Compound gin, is the closest to how original gins were made with flavours and essences added to neutral spirit. Sweetening and colouring is permitted.

Distilled gin is produced by diluting the natural spirit to about 45% ABV and then redistilling with botanicals including juniper. The botanicals can be added one of two ways, either by steeping the botanicals in the diluted spirit before redistilling, or through vapour infusion during the redistilling process. Colour may be added and natural or nature identical flavours can be added after the distillation process.

London Gin or London Dry Gin is identical to distilled gin except no colours may be added and no flavouring may be added after the distillation process. London Gin can be produced anywhere as long as it made in accordance with these regulations.

Gin Profiles

Gin has six main flavour profiles – Juniper, Citrus, Spiced, Herbaceous, Floral and Fruit.

Juniper

Clean, crisp and bold with juniper dominating, balanced by citrus and herbaceous notes. This is the traditional gin styles perfect for a G&T whilst also being extremely versatile.

Citrus

Fresh and zesty with citrus notes derived from the essential oils in citrus peel. These gins often have a more spicy tone with earthy notes.

Spiced

Warm, spicy and earthy, often dominated by traditional spicy botanicals such as coriander, cassia or cardamom. A number of contemporary gins use less common ones including black peppercorns or ginger.

Herbaceous

Assertive and distinctive often with unusual botanicals delivering unique flavours. Many herbaceous gins have a natural affinity with cucumber as a garnish.

Floral

Light and delicate with fragrant sweetness. Lightly perfumed with juniper and subtly balanced with citrus and spice. A great introduction for new gin drinkers.

Fruit

Sweet and full of fruit which sits alongside juniper. They make a great G&T but are fantastic neat.
